SECTION TREASURER DUTIES

ASHE is classified, by the Internal Revenue Service, as a 501(c) Tax-Exempt Organization. This tax status applies to Sections as well. Since Sections are a part of National ASHE who prepares the tax forms for the Sections, the organization must adhere strictly to IRS requirements to protect this status and its privileges.

Sections have become big business in recent years, and many have their own operating reserves, investments, and Section property. Since auditors must consider Section funds, as well as those of National, the accuracy of Section financial records and prudent management of these funds will reflect well upon the responsibility of those who have been entrusted with the care and custody of the members' funds.

The Section Treasurer should maintain files and records in accordance with accepted accounting practices, including records documenting unrelated business income, and file required reports to the National Office on a timely basis. The individual Section does bonding of the Section Treasurer.

The Section Treasurer is responsible for Section funds, their receipts, safekeeping, and disbursement. All Section bank accounts, including investment and special events accounts, must be managed by and are the responsibility of the Section Treasurer. All accounts must have a FIN, Federal Identification Number, or sometimes referred to as EIN or TIN for IRS purposes. This may be obtained by completing Form SS-4, which is available at financial institutes or via internet. The account should be listed as the American Society of Highway Engineers (Region or Section) Name. The account information must be provided to the National Treasurer and National Secretary for National's records.

Section accounts must have at least two Section Officer's listed on the signature card and all checks issued by Sections must have two Section Officer's signatures. Each Section account must be listed with the National Treasurer and National Secretary, including location, and most recent end-of-year balance.

The Section Treasurer maintains records of financial transactions of the Section and prepares periodic financial reports, as may be required by the National Office. The Section Executive Committee keeps the Section Treasurer's books open at all times for inspection.

The Section Treasurer reconciles receipts from ticket sales, registrations, exhibit space sales, etc. While a local committee/meeting host may handle much of this, it remains the Section Treasurer's responsibility to reconcile receipts with such things as attendance figures. The Section Treasurer works with the local committee to establish procedures for maintaining records or receipts and expenses.

The Section Treasurer must prepare a list of cash disbursements, showing check number, date, payee and amount, with explanations where appropriate, for approval by the Section Executive Committee at its regular meetings.

All of the Sections income and expenses is related to Section meetings and special functions. Net income and detailed receipts and disbursements for these functions are recorded in the Section books. Never record only the net income. Reports on the net income from particular meetings, however, will be helpful to the Executive Committee.

When advances are given to local host committees for budgeted expenses, these should be offset against the income received. If the advances are for a subsequent year, they should not be recorded in expenses for the current year, but held in a separate account as an advance.

The Section Treasurer must obtain an accounting of the expenses with supporting source documents from the host committee.
